

Rudraksha instead of Gemstones

This section is created for people who are not comfortable or not willing to wear astro gemstones for their own various personal reasons & instead would prefer wearing Rudraksha beads. Further at times people do prefer wearing Rudrakshas as they do not have any negative effects unlike gemstones.

As we know & have heard that gemstones if not worn with proper guidance & requirements can cause adverse or harmful effects on its wearer or possessor. Also as per the basic rule one should wear gems for positive or weak planets but not for negative or malefic planets, reason being gemstones are said to increase the strength of the planet irrespective of its nature of being positive or negative. In such a case where a person doesn't wish to take a chance or cannot wear gems he is free to wear Rudrakshas without any fear as no Rudraksha can cause an adverse or harmful or side effects & also, according to modern astrologers Rudrakshas are said to increase the strength of positive planets & neutralize the strength of negative planets in one's chart, however the percentage & time period of effects cannot be claimed by anyone as there is no instrument to measure the same, so kindly beware of traders who claim the time period & percentage of effects as this may just be a marketing stunt. According to modern astrologers Rudrakshas are representations of planets which are stated under chartically for your convenience. Please feel free of astrologers & select your own Rudraksha as per your own requirements or for a free recommendation by our expert visit Ask the Expert.
