For how long does an Astro gemstone give its effects?

There are lot misconceptions & superstitions spread regarding;
“For how long does a gemstone work?”

A Lot out of these funny astrologers keep saying that a gemstone gets ineffective after a certain period of time, most commonly they say either 1 or 3 years..

Let me tell you the reason behind it

1. The astrologer himself may be honest but not a learned enough; he too has learnt this soc called rule from incompetent astrologer.
2. Astrologers may try to fool you so that you can go back to them to buy another Astro gem after the prescribed period for the effects is over as this will keep their sales going.
3. Some people have also started saying that there are machines that can detect the strength of a gemstone, I would like to bring this to the notice of my esteemed clients that the machine used to check this itself is not completely accurate & full proof, it is manually handled & depends on the way the operator handles it, performing this multiple times on the same stone or human may give you different results each time. The operator himself has to keep adjusting the way he handles the machine.

Until now there is no full proof test to check the working period of a gemstone, until someone can prove this without any question we would say that a gemstone is for ever, the more you energize it, they more it shall work.

Do not waste your precious money if there isn't any logic behind it. Learn to question people.....
