

Note: Being a PDF file this page may appear larger in size; you could reduce it to normal size by using the “–“zoom sign on top bar.

How to Check The Quality Of Astro Gemstones?

→ In case there are any effects, then the effects of a transparent Astro Gemstone depends on its color, transparency & size. Deeper the color more rays it could attract from the planet & with more the transparency easily it would pass in your body. → Most of the times one gets an original Astro Gemstone but the color is either too less or treated & transparency is very poor. In case the color is less or treated its potential to attract rays reduces & at the same time more the color with no transparency does attract rays but doesn't pass it into your body. So one should ensure that the gemstone has a bit of all in it if not more.

All we could do is helping you understand how to know which stone is of a good quality.

→ Well there are a few categories of stones like the

1. The non treated ones (precious) – No treatments have been performed on the stone, its color & internal structure is all natural
2. The treated ones (precious) – the stones are original & natural but certain characteristics are enhanced by processes & treatments, like its color & transparency may have been enhanced.
3. Substitutes (semi precious) – they are again naturally produced by nature but are substitutes to the precious stones & a cheaper option.
4. Synthetics & fakes – made in laboratories.

→ Now for eg if you have to buy a yellow sapphire, you should ask the merchant whether the ones he is showing you are treated ones or non treated, if you have willingness to spend for a good stone then you should always emphasize on showing you non treated stones. If there is a slight budget constrain then a treated stone would do but it should be to your knowledge rather than wearing a substitute or synthetic.

The color is pretty much visible to your naked eye; the transparency could be seen by holding the stone against any form of light.

→ Taking a step ahead, the basic rule for a gemstone is

Deeper & better the color, more the transparency & more the size higher is the price. So once you out to buy a gem see how deep, dark & nice the color is along with its transparency, however it will cost you a very high price. The ones with good color but no transparency fetches a lower price.

→ We at Rudrablessings give gemstones by specifying its quality which you could check the above way, we also provide you a certificate from a official gem testing lab if you ask for it, further if you physically buy it from us we give you a return period of 1 week without deducting any money on return but the only condition is that the gem should be in the same condition as given during delivery & without mounting it into a pendant or a ring.

Even a day after the 1 week trial shall not be considered for accepting the returns.

The right to decide whether it is in the same condition lies with us & shall entertain no arguments

Further if you wish to ask us any specific questions regarding the quality of the gemstone you choose to buy please feel free to do so.

Note: The content above has been published on this website alone & no where else as on April 2010. It may have been copied from here to other websites.

Possess the Power of Astro Gemstones.....RudraBlessings.com