Ways of recommendation to wear an Astro Gemstone.

Well, people often wonder or ask the question which stone is suitable for me?

Well there are quite a few ways for recommending an Astro gemstone but one should know which is the most effective, personal & accurate one.

1. People do recommend & wear gemstones as per zodiac signs, sun sign moon sign & numerology, well these sciences for recommending a gemstone are not precisely accurate & specific, just to apply your logic; there are so many people with the same sign & same number but all of them with similar star signs do not have the same identical problems. This way to recommend gemstone is not specific for eg1. There would be millions of people who would be Taurians or any other sign but all of them do not face the same problems nor do they have the same amount of success.
eg 2. There would be millions of people whose date of birth would be totaling to the same number but their problems, success, life pattern are not the same. So imply by wearing a zodiac stone it is not necessary that all your problems & purpose for which you want to wear an Astro gemstone would be sorted.
2. Another way to recommend an Astro gemstone is by their properties, there are specific gemstones for specific problems, eg. They say emerald is worn for the mind, for cough & cold & so on...so, gem therapist recommends a stone as per the problems faced by the person. However there are some additional effects too that the wearer would have to face which may not be beneficial for him as per astrology.
3. The best way of recommending & wearing an Astro gemstone would be on the basis of astrology, as per your date, time & place of birth we get to know that current planetary positions & planetary positions at the time of your birth, this gives the entire story of your life, the purpose for which you need to wear a gemstone could be related to the planet that is causing them a problem which helps the astrologer to recommend you a gemstone. It is the planets after all that are causing the difference between every living being on earth & your birth chart is only yours & not shared by anyone else, hence your problems & success is yours & hence the solution to your problems too have to be specific which is as per astrology.
